Mr. Duke,

I am following up the scheduled rules review for NCBDN tomorrow, December 15. It appears as if the review is moving forward. With that said, I have a few questions:

- Ms. Ruberto Beachler and myself would still like to comment on the rules. Is there a specific process required to check into WebEx to speak remotely?
- When speaking on the rules, what is the joint time limit we need to honor? (I am recovering from the flu, so Ms. Ruberto Beachler may need to share on my behalf -- we'll see what tomorrow is like.)
- In reference to submitting objections to approved rules after the RRC hearing - if rule objections are outside the scope and authority of the RRC, do the objections need to be submitted from NC residents? Or can myself, a former NC resident, submit an objection?

Is there anything else you can think of that we need to know?

Thank you for your time.

Ms. Schwalb & Ms. Ruberto-Beachler,

I am the attorney handling the set of rules submitted by the Board of Dietetics and Nutrition. Thank you for engaging the administrative process; I look forward to your remarks to the Rules Review Commission.

Just to keep you informed as these rules go through our process, I wanted to let you know that the Board has requested an extension of time. They have done this so that they can have the opportunity to meet as a Board to review the changes I have requested. These changes are available on the NC Office of Administrative Hearings website, under the Rules Review Commission tab, in the Agenda for the upcoming meeting. Because it is likely that an extension will be granted, it is therefore also likely that you will not be given the opportunity to address the Commission at this meeting. I will keep you apprised as to when the Commission will be reviewing these Rules and providing time for comment.

If you have any questions or need anything further, please let me know.

Thank you,

Lawrence Duke

The note is a bit messy, we apologize, we were running out the door at the end of a long day.

Thank you.
