Comment: Continuing Education should be required for life. Lots of things change over the years and sometimes there are things you can learn from continuing education that maybe you would have otherwise not been aware of or potentially forgot! I'm sure a lot of contractors would disagree with this but think of like this, first and foremost knowledge never hurt anyone! Also you require inspectors to complete several hours of CE as long as they hold the position, but the people actually constructing the well only require a couple hrs for the first 3 years!? It doesn't make sense to me!
