Now that the citizens have finally had Voter ID (which they voted for initially but were robbed of its requirements) re-instated in NC, things need to be done right.

It is imperative that the photo part of an ID be verified before voting. If the photo does not match the person who is presenting it, then that person should not be allowed to vote.

Period.

To the NC State Rules Commission:

I am writing to you to formally oppose and request that you refuse the North Carolina state board of elections efforts to water down, and even eliminate North Carolina voter identification requirements. The North Carolina state Board of Elections lacks the authority to request, let alone pass, a rule that is subject of General Assembly legislative authority. Their effort is in direct violation of not only its authority, but also the clear intent of the law passed by the overwhelming majority of North Carolina voters in a constitutional amendment.

Sirs,
I just read your draft copy of the Photo ID Exception Form and would like some clarification? Are you implying that the voters of North Carolina are stupid, ignorant or just plain uneducated?
The first excuse implies that the voter has no drivers license, no passport has no friends no family and is a pathetic victim of our heartless bureaucracy. I don't believe that. I hope most voters are smart enough to figure it out.
The second excuse implies a mental or physical disability and yet, the voter is at the voting poles in person. If one is working or in school what documentation did that person produce to get hired or to enroll in school?
"I didn't know ID was required" Isn't that the BOE responsibility for disseminating voter information prior to an election in order to educate the voter? Are you implying you can't or wont do your job? If that is true...someone needs to resign.
My dog ate my homework. I lost it. I applied but not in time? If one want to vote, one needs to be prepared. Elections are not surprise pop quizzes.
The number 6 is truly baffling. What Federal or State law are we referencing?
I do however understand a religious objection or a natural disaster.

The North Carolina Supreme Court determined that Photo ID is legal and constitutional. Why the continued excuses for not obeying these requirements?

Thank you

Anna Cohen

Please tell me that this group is really not allowing exception to photo Id for photo because someone doesn't know. How stupid is this. I can't go to a Dr, bank, airplane, insurance without a photo Id. Please show some common sense!!

To Whom It May Concern:

I wish to register my objections to the new temporary rules dealing with verification of photo ID for voting (08 NC AC 17.0101).

It is very important that a rigorous method be utilized to assure proper assessment of voter ID's by election workers. I urge that this matter be deferred to legislative oversight.

Thank you.

To whom it may concern,

I do not believe being a moron should be allowed to replace not having an ID.

If you what to buy cigarettes or beer you have to show and ID.

No exceptions.

Can we please have a fair election? If you are worried about morons nots knowing they need an ID, just get the word out.

Thank you,

Dear hard working team,

With all the MANY exceptions given, the MANY choices allowed (that don't include the assurance that the voters are really US CITIZENS) the only question remaining is: WHY BOTHER to ask a picture ID? It seems that it's going to be futile. Imagine going to vote and saying "oh I had no idea I was supposed to show an ID" while the poll worker replies: "Don't worry, mark here & vote anyway"

As a naturalized US citizen who came from a THIRD WORLD COUNTRY, I invite you all to go as observers, so you can see they do it over there.

How Can They Get Away With This?

You know the REASON the NCSBE will give for being allowed to add this excuse to the list of exceptions?

§ 163-166.16 \(e\) NC's lame VOTER ID law:

May we suggest adding #7 to the Reasonable Impediment List.

(CHOOSE ONE OR MORE REASONS BELOW)

#7 It's Tuesday.

(We'd suggest adding "My Dog Ate It", but that's already there - #3.)

#3 My photo ID is lost, stolen or misplaced.

The Joke's On Us!

Silly us, here we thought NC had a Voter Photo ID law.

These legislators passed the Voter ID bill into law - back before they had a "conservative" Super Majority. But NOW they do have a Super Majority which renders Cooper's veto powerless, right?

The legislators in Raleigh are simply not serious about protecting the integrity of our elections. Period. Full stop.

Greetings RRC members:

My name is Steve Bryant, and I am a concerned citizen and registered voter in North Carolina.

I would like to voice my concern and opposition of the proposed "Reasonable Impediment Declaration Form".

First and foremost, the addition of line number 2 (I did not know photo ID was required for voting) is not in the statute, § 163-166.16(e).

Second, this would render the voter ID law useless.

Lastly, this is an absurd reason to avoid presenting a voter ID and would facilitate voter fraud.

The voters of North Carolina overwhelmingly support the implementation of the voter ID and want to have this law finally implemented fairly and accurately.

Thank you for your consideration and I hope you decide to remove this option from this form.

Sincerely,
Steve Bryant
