Initial Access to the Electronic Rule Submission System

• Go to the E-Filing site

https://www.encrats.oah.state.nc.us/Login.aspx

You may also access the system from the OAH website (https://www.oah.nc.gov/) by selecting the Rules Division menu, clicking the "Information For Rulemaking Coordinators" link and pressing the "Rule E-Filing Login Page" link. There is a Frequently Asked Questions link and an E-Filing PowerPoint presentation on the website that provide insight into the project and guidance on how to use the system.

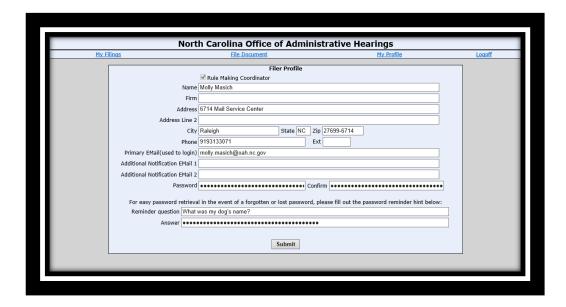

• On the Electronic Rule Submission login page, enter your email address and "oah" (case sensitive – enter lower case oah) as the password (you must be a registered Rulemaking Coordinator to log in).

• Click the Login button to enter the system.

- You must enter a reminder question and answer. Your Reminder question and answer should not be obvious or easy to guess.
- You may enter two additional email addresses. All system related correspondence will also be sent to these addresses. These individuals will not be able to log into the system.
- You cannot change the name, address, phone number, or primary email information. That is maintained by OAH. Contact OAH if the information needs to be updated.

Note: If your account gets locked for multiple wrong password attempts, the forgotten password feature is also locked. Wait 30 minutes for the lock to expire, then use the forgotten password feature.

My Filings

- General filing information is displayed and includes the filing description, the rulemaking agency, the Register, the filing type, the status of the filing, the date last modified and the creator. For filings that have been submitted to OAH, a PDF icon appears which will display a PDF version of the filing. The column headings can be clicked and the view will sort by that column. Clicking on the Register link will display the Register page from the OAH website.
- Clicking on the duplicate icon (4th column) will create a new filing with the primary information duplicated from the selected row. Rules attached to the original filing will not be duplicated.
- Clicking on the grey arrow on the far left will open the filing form for reviewing or editing (if filing has not been submitted to OAH) of the details of the filing.
