Explain: The reason for the rule is because there are gaps in the administrative code. When Food and Drug Protection Division inspectors visit retail pet and commercial feed stores and observe pest activity, unsanitary facilities, or unclean equipment, they have no specific rules to cite to that address how businesses can remedy the situation. The current good manufacturing practice found under Subpart B of 21 CFR Part 507 provides guidance and a framework for those that engage the selling and manufacturing of commercial feed on how to provide wholesome pet and commercial feed. The Food and Drug Protection Division expects that most businesses already follow in some form the good manufacturing practice and having the rule in place will provide transparency, and uniformity, to the expectations of the department under the NC Commercial Feed Law. Moreover, N.C.G.S. 106-284.41(a)(2) states that in the interest of uniformity, the Board shall by regulation adopt regulations promulgated by the FDA under 21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.
