Explain: Currently, grocery stores and other retail businesses in NC that sell eggs are allowed to repackage eggs for sale when there are cracked or leaking eggs in order to consolidate non-damage eggs and create full cartons. When repackaged, eggs from various suppliers can be combined into the same carton and traceability lost. The agency agrees with the request from the NC Egg Association so that we may maintain the state's high food safety standards and retain traceability in the event of a food-borne illness outbreak attributed to eggs. The changes address comments and concerns submitted by the Carolina Farm Stewardship Association and some small egg farmers.

9B. Explain: The revisions set out what will be required for in-service training in 2015. These in-service training programs began in 2005 with deputies completing 4 hours of domestic violence training. Since 2006 deputies have been required to complete 24 hours of in-service training. Since 2007 detention officers and telecommunicators have been required to complete 16 hours. In 2015, deputies must likewise complete approximately 24 hours, and detention officers and telecommunicators must complete 16 hours. Effective in 2013, the in-service requirement was no longer based upon hours of instruction received, but based upon the person completing the training and showing proficiency in the topics by passing tests. The purpose of requiring in-service training is to improve performance, reduce errors and reduce the number of lawsuits, and protect public health, safety and welfare by ensuring each officer remains knowledgeable in the relevant subject areas of enforcement, corrections, or communications.

9B. Explain: The proposed permanent amendments to 15A NCAC 10F .0353 would codify into the rules of the N.C. Wildlife Resources Commission three no-wake zones that were established by the Mountain Island Lake Marine Commission and create one new no-wake zone on the lake. In September 2013, a meeting was held at Mountain Island Lake with representatives from the Mountain Island Lake Marine Commission, Duke Energy and the Wildlife Resources Commission with the intention of assessing current no-wake zone needs. Those in attendance toured the lake and determined recommendations for existing no-wake zones and any need for new no-wake zones. All agreed that due to safety issues, the current no-wake zones at Neck Cove, Whispering Cove and Gar Creek established by the Mountain Island Lake Marine Commission should become Wildlife Resources Commission no-wake zones and that a no-wake zone is needed at the NC Hwy 73 Bridge.

9B. Explain: The proposed permanent amendment to 15A NCAC 10F .0355 would establish a no-wake zone on Bethel Creek, a tributary to Yeopim River in Perquimans County. Bethel Creek is a narrow creek approximately 150 feet wide and receives a great deal of activity. There are approximately six private boat docks that are used for swimming, fishing, and boat storage at this time and a proposed new subdivision on the North East side of the creek will increase the number of docks and boating traffic. Also, there are two boat ramps, one containing eight boat slips used to store boats within this proposed no wake zone. Law Enforcement officers have already received multiple complaints of near misses from boats running at greater than no-wake speed and conclude that due to the safety concern of small children and families swimming in this narrow waterway, and possible hazards caused by duck blinds and fallen trees, a no-wake zone is warranted.

9B. Explain: The proposed administrative code changes involve vegetation removal by permitted entities along the NC Highway System. New administrative code (NCAC) is proposed to comply with changes as a result of amendments to existing NC General Statute 136-133.1. In addition, other proposed administrative code revisions are necessary to comply with ongoing implementation of NC General Statute 136-93 (b) as well as the newly codified NC General Statute 136-93.3. The revisions clarify existing NCAC rule requirements and reorganize existing rules to improve usability. The new code and proposed rule revisions will enable North Carolina Department of Transportation staff to oversee and ensure compliance with Statutory allowances for permitted vegetation removal. The applicable Statutes allow for permits to remove vegetation by outdoor advertisers and business facilities, including a new sub-category known as agritourism activities.

Explain: This change lowers the review period for school completion rates. The change comes after noting that many small schools that have fewer students may end up with higher ratios of failure to complete the program. This puts such schools at a disadvantage and so by extending the review period we hope to increase the total number of enrollments considered in the rate.
