Explain: The Tar-Pamlico Wastewater Rule (15A NCAC 02B .0733) was adopted in 1997 to address requirements for non-association new and expanding wastewater dischargers in the Tar-Pamlico basin. This Rule in its current form does not address the implementation requirements for existing wastewater dischargers that are members of the Tar-Pamlico Basin Association (TPBA), which are addressed in the Association's Group Discharge Permit and a signed Agreement between the Association, Division of Water Resources, and Environmental Management Commission. The Commission approved amendments to the .0733 rule to fully incorporate the wastewater discharge requirements for the TPBA as currently established in their Group Discharge Permit and Agreement. Codifying the wastewater discharge requirements in the rule adds benefits of establishing a more enforceable foundation for the Total Maximum Daily Load (TMDL) driven requirements of the nutrient management strategy. These amendments also provide an opportunity to modernize the language and improve the clarity of the requirements for the regulated community, while also providing the opportunity for stakeholder input on the proposed rule amendments.
