Hi Sirena,

Yes, the deadline is Thursday, 5:00 PM. As I said earlier, I'm happy to sit down with you guys, but really, it makes more sense for you to submit responses before we do, because if the responses are good, then there's really no need for a meeting.

Thanks,
Brian

Good afternoon.

We left off with scheduling a meeting before our submission. I would still like to have a meeting before they are submitted.

Is my deadline this Thursday 11/10 for these to go before the Commission on the 17th?

I made the changes to section (k), as well as the correction to "United States."

(c)(2): You are correct. The language explains what we are already requiring. It provides clarification to "certified" and what is acceptable for the criminal record check, which is also referenced in (g).

(g)(2) we provided a breakdown and clarification by listing it out in A-C. We are specifying what is already required.

Hey Sirena,

This looks good. I went issue by issue below, in red.

As for the Forms language in (k), I think this is good. My only suggestion is to say that these forms "shall contain" the information you're requiring, rather than "consists of". That way you're actually requiring something, rather than explaining it.

Thanks for sending these over. I haven't gotten a chance yet to complete my review of the parallel CJETS/SETSC rules, but I will make all efforts to do so before 5:00 today.

Thanks again for speaking with me this morning.

Responses:

Also in (c)(2), line 33, I'm not sure I understand what you're requiring. What is a "certified" records check? Also, when you say "county-wide" do you mean the county that the applicant resided in? Please clarify.

A certified record check is a term well understood within the law enforcement community as a record of someone's history of criminal charges and the disposition of those charges including convictions that is certified by the entity producing the record. The record check and certification is most often done by the clerk of court for the jurisdiction and certified by a raised seal of the office, but it may be done by other law enforcement agencies or other governmental entities that have access to criminal records. The record may be certified by means of a visual certification on the document such as an official stamp, a written statement of certification, an electronic certification, or several other means. Given the variety of certifications we may receive from different governmental some flexibility of language is necessary. The language of the proposed regulation has been changed to "The criminal record check shall be from the Clerk of Court, a law enforcement agency within the jurisdiction, or other governmental entity that maintains or has access to criminal records for the jurisdiction. The criminal record check shall be certified by the entity providing the record with either a raised seal or other visible verification that the document is an authentic copy." The term county-wide has been changed to clarify that it is a record check from the county in which the applicant has resided.

OK, looks good to me. To be clear, the language you've added to the rule merely specifies what you were already requiring? Or are these new requirements that you're enforcing for the first time?

In (g)(2), line 20, what “efforts” must be made and documented? Who shall make such efforts? How must they be documented? Please clarify.

The proposed regulation has been changed to specify what an employing agency must do. They must provide the record check from the foreign country in which the applicant lived or provide correspondence with the foreign government and a report from the appointed background investigator explaining the efforts made by the agency to obtain the record and an explanation as to why the record could not be obtained. There are innumerable reasons the record may be unobtainable. For example, records may not be kept, the records may have been destroyed, the country’s laws may prohibit their release, diplomatic problems with the country, etc. Flexibility is necessary and it is impossible and inappropriate to specify all acceptable reasons. However, as long as the hiring agency contacted the national judicial authority, law enforcement authority, or other governmental entity charged with maintaining the records, followed up with any other governmental entity, and complete any forms required and submit documentation to get a record check they will have a safe harbor. If there are no referrals made or requests for forms or documentation then they will have a safe harbor also.

This also looks good to me. Note a typo on line 4, where it says “United Stated” that should be fixed.

Again, I have to ask, because this is a fairly extensive change, are you simply specifying what you were already requiring? Or are these new requirements that you’re enforcing for the first time?

In (i), line 34, how shall the name change be documented? Please specify.

Changed to specify that “a copy of the legal document effecting the name change with either a raised seal or other visible verification that the document is an authentic copy from the governmental entity that issued the document or is charged with maintaining the record of the document.” Different states and countries have different legal instruments that effect name changes and different entities maintain these records. The requirement is to have the legal document that had the effect of changing the name.

Again, looks good to me.

In (j), what are you requiring? What “charges or other violations” would result from a records check but not pertain to the applicant? How would the agency “explain” those charges, and what is a satisfactory explanation?

Criminal record database searches used to run criminal record checks often return records for criminal charges on individuals who are not the individual who is being searched for due to imprecision in the entries and the search capabilities of the database. There are a wide range of reasons this may happen such as similarities in the name of the person searched and the name in the record. Oftentimes these false returns may be easily ruled out by comparison of personal identifying information, the date and location of the offense and known age or whereabouts of the applicant, or several other factors. If the hiring agency does not believe a charge or violation relates to the applicant, they should give the reason for the belief but the possible acceptable reasons are innumerable due to the variations in people’s personal histories and database entries. The Commission will make a final determination on whether the offense is applicable to the applicant. Providing an explanation will expedite this process. The language has been changed to help clarify this requirement.

Got it. Makes sense now.

Good morning Leslie,

Sorry for the late response, I only got back into my outlook account late last night.

To be clear, there are no objections to the Sheriff's rules at this time. Moreover, although I looked at a few of the CJETS rules, the bulk were reviewed by my colleague, Mr. Duke, so this is my first time reviewing some of this language. Ms. Jones has very helpfully sent me a chart equating each Sheriff's rule with the corresponding CJETS rule, and I think that will aid my review.

We received Ms. Jones' request for an extension, and I will recommend that the Commission grant it. Given some time to work on these, I'm sure we can work out any issues remaining with these Rules.

Thanks,

Good morning Brian,

I am a little confused about the objections to the Sheriffs' Standards rules. We amended them to look exactly like the CJ rules (per SB300) that were passed last month. If the Sheriffs' rules have been amended to look just like the approved CJ rules I am unclear why there are objections.

The two sets of rules have to be identical per SB300 and so as soon as our CJ rules were passed by the RRC we sent them to Sheriffs. I have not done a page by page comparison but DD Jones indicates that she incorporated CJ's changes to the Sheriffs' rules before submission.

Given that, I am not sure why there are additional objections if the rules are identical and the CJ rules passed the RRC last month?

If you could shed some light on that for me, that would be great. I am happy to hop on a call if needed.

Many thanks,
Leslie

Thanks, Brian – we appreciate you working through this with us. I also think we are making a couple of technical changes to ensure that the two sets of rules comport. Perhaps we can meet early in November, once everyone has had a chance to review, to make sure we iron out any additional issues?

Best,
Leslie

Good morning Leslie,

Sorry for the late response, I only got back into my outlook account late last night.

To be clear, there are no objections to the Sheriff's rules at this time. Moreover, although I looked at a few of the CJETS rules, the bulk were reviewed by my colleague, Mr. Duke, so this is my first time reviewing some of this language. Ms. Jones has very helpfully sent me a chart equating each Sheriff's rule with the corresponding CJETS rule, and I think that will aid my review.

We received Ms. Jones' request for an extension, and I will recommend that the Commission grant it. Given some time to work on these, I'm sure we can work out any issues remaining with these Rules.

Thanks,
Brian

Good morning Brian,

I am a little confused about the objections to the Sheriffs' Standards rules. We amended them to look exactly like the CJ rules (per SB300) that were passed last month. If the Sheriffs' rules have been amended to look just like the approved CJ rules I am unclear why there are objections.

The two sets of rules have to be identical per SB300 and so as soon as our CJ rules were passed by the RRC we sent them to Sheriffs. I have not done a page by page comparison but DD Jones indicates that she incorporated CJ's changes to the Sheriffs' rules before submission.

Given that, I am not sure why there are additional objections if the rules are identical and the CJ rules passed the RRC last month?

If you could shed some light on that for me, that would be great. I am happy to hop on a call if needed.

Many thanks,
Leslie

Good morning,

I'm the attorney who reviewed the Rules submitted by the Sheriff's Education and Training Standards Commission for the October 2022 RRC meeting. The RRC will formally review these Rules at its meeting on Thursday, October 20, 2022, at 9:00 a.m. The meeting will be a hybrid of in-person and WebEx attendance, and an invite should be sent to you as we get closer to the meeting. If there are any other representatives from your agency who will want to attend virtually, let me know prior to the meeting, and we will get invites out to them as well.

Please submit the revised Rules and forms to me via email, no later than 5 p.m. on Friday, October 14, 2022.

In the meantime, please do not hesitate to reach out via email with any questions or concerns.

Thanks,

Brian
