9B. Explain: This set of rule amendments is being submitted in order to come into full compliance with requirements of the federal Child Care Development Block Fund Grant, 42 U.S.C. §9858 (CCDBG). The CCDBG Act is the primary federal law supporting child care programs for low income working families. It provides discretionary funding to state, territorial, and tribal agencies to subsidize child care costs for eligible children and enhance the quality and availability of child care. Discretionary CCDBG funds are combined with mandatory Child Care Entitlement to States (CCES) funds, which are permanently authorized under Section 418 of the Social Security Act and must follow CCDBG rules. Together, these funding streams form the Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF), which is administered by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The CCDF provides federal subsidies for low-income families with a parent who is working or continuing their education and training. These subsidies for low-income families with a parent who is working or continuing their education and training. These subsidies help families pay for child care services. To receive CCDF funds, states must set educational, health, and safety standards in 11 areas, which CCDF child care providers must follow. States must have both pre-service (or during an orientation period) and on-going minimum health and safety training requirements (appropriate to the provider setting) for providers serving CCDF children in the topic areas listed above. The CCDBG law does not require any specific number of preservice and ongoing training hours for CCDF health and safety training. The NC Child Care Commission addressed the CCDBG requirements by stating all health and safety topics are covered over a specified period of time but maintain the currently required number of on-going training hours. The health and safety standards required by CCDF are designed to benefit children, parents, child care workers, and the State. The benefit to children and parents is avoiding illness and injury to children in care. The benefit to child care workers is improved quality of child care and support for the child care workforce. Finally, the benefit to the State is ensuring continued federal CCDF Discretionary funds, which are used for child care subsidies and for activities to improve the quality and accessibility of child care. In addition to the above rule changes required to comply with federal CCDF requirements, the Child Care Commission is proposing an amendment to 10A NCAC 09 .2101 to clarify that religious-sponsored child care centers are not exempt from the health and safety training requirements if they participate in the child care subsidy assistance program. By law, religious sponsored child care centers are exempt from other requirements related to licensing and employee qualifications. The proposed amendment to 10A NCAC 09 .2101 will align the rule with a declaratory ruling and longstanding practice. As such, this change will have no impact other than from incremental improvement to rule clarity.

9B. Explain: This set of rule amendments is being submitted in order to come into full compliance with requirements of the federal Child Care Development Block Fund Grant, 42 U.S.C. §9858 (CCDBG). The CCDBG Act is the primary federal law supporting child care programs for low-income working families. It provides discretionary funding to state, territorial, and tribal agencies to subsidize child care costs for eligible children and enhance the quality and availability of child care. Discretionary CCDBG funds are combined with mandatory Child Care Entitlement to States (CCES) funds, which are permanently authorized under Section 418 of the Social Security Act and must follow CCDBG rules. The CCDBG law does not require any specific number of preservice and ongoing training hours for CCDF health and safety training. The NC Child Care Commission addressed the CCDBG requirements by stating all health and safety topics are covered over a specified period of time but maintain the currently required number of on-going training hours. The health and safety standards required by CCDF are designed to benefit children, parents, child care workers, and the State. The benefit to children and parents is avoiding illness and injury to children in care. The benefit to child care workers is improved quality of child care and support for the child care workforce. Finally, the benefit to the State is ensuring continued federal CCDF Discretionary funds, which are used for child care subsidies and for activities to improve the quality and accessibility of child care. In addition to the above rule changes required to comply with federal CCDF requirements, the Child Care Commission is proposing an amendment to 10A NCAC 09 .2101 to clarify that religious-sponsored child care centers are not exempt from the health and safety training requirements if they participate in the child care subsidy assistance program. By law, religious sponsored child care centers are exempt from other requirements related to licensing and employee qualifications. The proposed amendment to 10A NCAC 09 .2101 will align the rule with a declaratory ruling and longstanding practice. As such, this change will have no impact other than from incremental improvement to rule clarity.

9B. Explain: G.S. 150B-21.3A requires a periodic review and readoption of all the rules used by state agencies on at least a 10-year basis. The Mining Commission has directed the staff of the Division of Energy, Mineral and Land Resources to implement the administrative process necessary for the review of the rules in Title 15A, Chapter 05 of the North Carolina Administrative Code. The proposed rule changes are designed not only to satisfy the readoption requirement, but also to update references and terminology and to revise requirements in line with current practices and technological advancements. These updates will help ensure the rules remain accurate, relevant, and effective.

9B. Explain: G.S. 150B-21.3A requires a periodic review and readoption of all the rules used by state agencies on at least a 10-year basis. The Mining Commission has directed the staff of the Division of Energy, Mineral and Land Resources to implement the administrative process necessary for the review of the rules in Title 15A, Chapter 05 of the North Carolina Administrative Code. The proposed rule changes are designed not only to satisfy the readoption requirement, but also to update references and terminology and to revise requirements in line with current practices and technological advancements. These updates will help ensure the rules remain accurate, relevant, and effective.

9B. Explain: Session Law 2025-60, Part V, amended G.S. 115C-315 to require the State Board of Education to adopt rules the establish the qualifications and training required to be hired or contracted for as a school nurse. The law as revised prohibits the State Board from requiring a school nurse to obtain a four-year degree, and requires a school nurse to be paid on the state salary schedule established by the State Board if the school nurse meets the following criteria: 1. The school nurse is a registered nurse licensed under Chapter 90, Article 9A of the General Statutes; and 2. The school nurse has at least two years of experience serving in a hospital or health clinic. The proposed rule is responsive to the new law while continuing to allow school nurse candidates to qualify under the more rigorous existing State Board policy, which requires a bachelor's degree and certification from the National Board for Certification of School Nurses. In addition to these minimum qualifications, the proposed rule also includes certain training requirements that the school nurse must complete within a certain amount of time of being hired.

9B. Explain: G.S. 115C-379 requires the State Board of Education to adopt rules related to compulsory school attendance for children under age 16. In addition, G.S. 115C-364(d) requires the State Board to adopt guidelines for early admission to Kindergarten. The State Board has adopted such rules in Title 16, Subchapter 6E Section .0100 of the North Carolina Administrative Code. The Administrative Procedure Act requires the State Board to review and re-adopt necessary rules once every 10 years. See G.S. 150B-213A. The attendance rules must be readopted by June 30, 2026.  The rules as proposed for readoption have been modernized and revised to align with current law as well as State Board of Education Policies ATND-000 and KNEC-001.

9B. Explain: Last year, the Legislature enacted SL 2025-37. This new law authorizes pharmacists to test for and initiate treatment for influenza. In September 2025, the State Health Director issued two standing orders implementing the new law. The Medical Board and Board of Pharmacy propose rules that adopt the standing orders of the State Health Directors as protocol.
