Hi Kristen,

Thank you for your email. Yes, I remember you. I hope you are well.

I do not know that I will have time to speak with you before the RRC meeting but I will do what I can to accommodate the request. Please be advised that any verbal communications between the agency and RRC counsel will be memorialized and publicly available pursuant to OAH policy.

In the meantime I will be recommending extension of rule 58A .0302 at the RRC meeting. It is too late to consider any additional revisions to the rule for Thursday's meeting.

It is my intention to recommend approval of the balance of the rules at Thursday's meeting unless your agency believes there are interconnectivity issues with rule 58A .0302. Is there any interconnectivity?

Thank you in advance for your prompt response. I look forward to working with you.

Hi Bill,

Hope that you had a nice Easter.

Do you have some time this afternoon or early tomorrow to discuss the concerns with this rule?

On a separate note – you may or may not remember me from many moons ago with Kat Haney, Joey Stansbury, et al at Greenshields?! Glad to see you at RRC!

External sender <bill.peaslee@oah.nc.gov>

Make sure you trust this sender before taking any actions. Good afternoon,

Thank you for your email.

As written, Paragraph (d) implies that there are two processes for withdrawing an application: one pre-Notice of Hearing and another post-Notice of Hearing.

In the former, the applicant may withdraw for any reason and by any vehicle the applicant chooses. As this language is permissive in nature, consider whether it is necessary as the Commission is not setting any requirements for this withdrawal.

The latter is the problem. The Commission has placed an incomplete process into the rules which creates an ambiguity. Upon what criteria will the Commission exercise its discretion on whether to grant the "Motion to Withdraw"?

The Commission is an executive branch agency. It does not have unfettered discretion and cannot regulate the public by whim, particularly regarding the pursuit of a livelihood. The issue here does not go to the applicant's fitness to have a license in which the Commission has great discretion in a, arguably, quasi-judicial capacity. The issue here is one of process, the terms of which must be clear and unambiguous. And who appoints the Commission members is irrelevant under Chapter 150B.

Paragraph (e) has a similar problem. Here, by employing the word "may," the Commission is exercising discretion which could result in the denial of the pursuit of a livelihood albeit temporary. It is unclear by what criteria this discretion will be exercised. The remedy here is to either change "may" to "shall" or state the criteria upon which the discretion will be exercised.

At this point, the Commission can either submit a revised rule, being cognizant of G.S. 150B-21.2(g), withdraw the rule, or decide the last revision is the final revision. In the latter case I will write an opinion for the May 2025 RRC meeting. What would you like to do?

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to your response. As I understand some of your key decisionmakers are unavailable, I will not expect a reply prior to the April RRC meeting.

Have a happy Easter.

Bill

As you know there are seven rules for which I will be making a recommendation of approval. Rule 58A .0302 is outstanding.

Do you want the balance of the rules to be considered Thursday's RRC meeting or are their any interconnectivity issues for which you would want other rules extended as well.

Good morning.

Thank you for the explanation of the above captioned rule. Consider whether "instructional hours," which is a defined term, as opposed to "instructional time," would be an improvement.

Also, the RRC style guide prefers active voice. "Education providers shall (not) ..."

Either way I would recommend approval.

Good afternoon,

Rule .0302, Line 22: What criteria will the Commission use in exercising its discretion in determining whether to grant the "Motion"? Or does the Commission mean a "Notice"? If the Commission means "notice", what is the difference between withdrawing before or after the Notice of Hearing? In other words, if an applicant can withdraw their application at any time for any reason, why make a distinction? The Commission has dealt with a number of applicants who have requested a hearing, then requested multiple continuances. When the Commission denies a continuance, the applicant is currently able to immediately reapply and start the process again, effectively getting their continuance despite the Commission's decision not to delay the matter further. Going through the entire process and preparing for hearing, paying a court reporter, etc. only to have an applicant withdraw on the day of the hearing is a waste of the Commission's time and resources. Commission members are appointed by the governor and General Assembly and tasked in their judicial capacity with determining motions, hearing cases, and making findings of fact, conclusions of law, and entering orders. Motion practice is a part of their judicial function, not their legislative or rulemaking function. The purpose of this rule is to make it clear to an applicant that they must file a motion to withdraw after the formal Notice of Hearing required under GS 15B has been served on the Applicant. That is the point at which the board would like to remove the applicant's ability to freely withdraw their application without the board granting a motion to withdraw. The board would weigh the evidence presented by the applicant supporting their motion and determine if that evidence warrants allowing the withdrawal.

Lines 21-23: Perhaps it would help me understand what activities the Commission is trying to prevent with this paragraph. At first I thought the Commission was trying to limit "instructional time" to certain substantive but undefined classes/topics. As revised the Commission seems to be requiring instructional time being devoted to instruction. Why is that necessary? What else would instructional time be used for? CE providers often have sponsors provide food and beverages and the sponsors want time to promote their products or services. The Commission does not allow any promotional material to be presented during the instructional time, which must be used only for instruction on the course materials. We thought the issue was with defining "substantive" and revised the rule to eliminate that word. We may have misunderstood the objection. Class materials are approved by the Commission under another rule, and those materials are the ones we refer to here as the classes/topics.

Thank you for your prompt response.

Bill

Hi Melissa,

While the RRC can only grant the extension, I would not oppose it if need be. These appear to be simple changes. Also please consider whether any of the rules for which I am recommending approval are connected to those which would remain under consideration. If they are, then those rules should be extended as well.

Thank you, Bill.

I will respond as soon as possible to the additional questions. If these are remedied by COB tomorrow, will they also go to the April RRC meeting? If our Executive Director decides proceed with the extended period of review to the May RRC meeting, is that still an option?

Good morning Bill,

Attached are REC's responses to the request for changes along with the rule text Word files for your review. Due to the additional language added in 21 NCAC 58A .0302 to define 'good cause,' REC Staff will be presenting the revised language to our board on April 23rd for their input . I know you are preparing for RRC's April 24th meeting, but any thoughts or additional recommendations to 21 NCAC 58A .0302 would be greatly appreciated in advance of that meeting.

Please let me know if you have any additional concerns or requests after reviewing the revised rule text.

Thank you for all your assistance!

Good afternoon Bill,

The Real Estate Commission has been reviewing the change requests and would like to request additional time to respond. Also, our next Commission meeting happens to be the day before the RRC April 24th meeting which does not allow us enough time to have finalized rules back to you. I'm hoping to have revised rules and responses to your questions soon so that the rules are finalized well in advance of RRC's May 29th meeting.

Please let me know if you have any questions or if there's anything further I can provide.

Thank you,

Melissa Vuotto Compliance Manager Regulatory Affairs Division North Carolina Real Estate Commission
